STATE TREASURER OF OHIO

Momentum Grows for Statewide Government Transparency with Over 670 Local Government and School Districts Partnering with OhioCheckbook.com

Press Release - Ohio Treasurer's Office

MOUNT VERNON—Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel announced today the launch of the Knox County, Village of Fredericktown and Village of Danville online checkbooks on OhioCheckbook.com. In December 2014, Treasurer Mandel launched OhioCheckbook.com, which sets a new national standard for government transparency and for the first time in Ohio history puts all state spending information on the internet. OhioCheckbook.com recently earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for a second year in a row.

Treasurer Mandel was joined at today's announcement by Knox County Auditor Jonette Curry, Commissioner Teresa Bemiller and Treasurer Shelley Coon. Knox County, the Village of Fredericktown and the Village of Danville are the first local governments in Knox County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com. Knox County is the 17th county in Ohio to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com.

The following is a breakdown of today's local government sites:

Knox County's online checkbook includes over 26,000 individual transactions that represent more than $128 million of total spending over Fiscal Year 2014.

Fredericktown's online checkbook includes over 15,000 individual transactions that represent more than $7 million of total spending over the past four years.

Danville's online checkbook includes over 9,000 individual transactions that represent more than $2.6 million of total spending over the past four years.

"I believe the people of Knox County have a right to know how their tax money is being spent, and I applaud local leaders here for partnering with my office to post the finances on OhioCheckbook.com," said Treasurer Mandel. "By posting local government spending online, we are empowering taxpayers across Ohio to hold public officials accountable."

"Government transparency is best practiced by removing the barriers of entry for its citizens," said Knox County Auditor Jonette Curry. "By displaying its finances on OhioCheckbook.com's easily accessible format, Knox County residents can view government financial information anytime. Knox County is proud to join OhioCheckbook.com, and we encourage our citizens to use this tool to access public information."

"The Village of Danville is excited to join OhioCheckbook.com," said Clerk-Treasurer Laurie Vess. "We always strive to provide our citizens with great transparency."

On April 7, 2015 Treasurer Mandel sent a letter to 18,062 local government and school officials representing 3,962 local governments throughout the state calling on them to place their checkbook level data on OhioCheckbook.com and extending an invitation to partner with his office at no cost to local governments. These local governments include cities, counties, townships, schools, library districts and other special districts.

A large coalition of statewide and local government organizations have expressed support for OhioCheckbook.com and local government transparency, including:

- Ohio Municipal League
- Ohio Township Association
- Ohio Association of School Business Officials
- Buckeye Association of School Administrators
- County Commissioner Association of Ohio
- County Auditor Association of Ohio
- Ohio Newspaper Association
- Ohio Society of CPAs
- Buckeye Institute
- Common Cause Ohio

OhioCheckbook.com was launched on December 2, 2014, marking the first time in Ohio history when citizens could actually see every expenditure in state government. Since its launch, OhioCheckbook.com has received overwhelming support from newspapers and groups across the state and, as of May 1, 2016 there have been more than 523,000 total searches on the site.

OhioCheckbook.com displays more than $512 billion in spending over the past eight years, including more than 139 million transactions. The website includes cutting-edge features such as:

- “Google-style” contextual search capabilities, to allow users to sort by keyword, department, category or vendor;
- Fully dynamic interactive charts to drill down on state spending;
- Functionality to compare state spending year-over-year or among agencies; and,
- Capability to share charts or checks with social media networks, and direct contact for agency fiscal offices.

In March 2015, the U.S. Public Interest Research Group (U.S. PIRG) released their annual “Following the Money 2015” report and Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one transparency ranking in the country for providing online access to government spending data. Ohio was prominently featured in the report after climbing from 46th to 1st in spending transparency as a result of Treasurer Mandel’s release of OhioCheckbook.com. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio received a perfect score of 100 points this year &ndash; the highest score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

In April 2016, U.S. PIRG announced that Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for the second consecutive year in a row. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio again received the highest perfect score of 100 points this year &ndash; marking the second time in two years Ohio received the highest possible score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

The Treasurer's office is partnering with OpenGov, a leading Silicon Valley government technology company, to provide residents of Ohio the ability to view and search local government expenditures in a user-friendly, digital format. "Ohio is setting the standard for financial transparency on an unprecedented scale. We are excited to partner with the Treasurer's office to bring world-class technology to communities large and small across the state," said Zachary Bookman, CEO of OpenGov.
