Momentum Grows for Statewide Government Transparency with Over 770 Local Government and School Districts Partnering with OhioCheckbook.com

Press Release - Ohio Treasurer's Office

DAYTON – Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel announced today the launch of the Montgomery County and the Village of Farmersville online checkbook on OhioCheckbook.com. In December 2014, Treasurer Mandel launched OhioCheckbook.com, which sets a new national standard for government transparency and for the first time in Ohio history puts all state spending information on the internet. OhioCheckbook.com recently earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for a second year in a row.

Treasurer Mandel was joined at today's announcement by Montgomery County Auditor Karl Keith. Montgomery County is the 21st county in Ohio to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com, and Farmersville is the first village in Montgomery County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com.

Montgomery County's online checkbook includes over 1.3 million individual transactions that represent more than $7.8 billion of total spending over the past six years.

Farmersville's online checkbook includes over 3,000 individual transactions that represent more than $2.4 million of total spending over the past three years.

"I believe the people of Montgomery County have a right to know how their tax money is being spent, and I applaud local leaders here for partnering with my office to post the finances on OhioCheckbook.com," said Treasurer Mandel. "By posting local government spending online, we are empowering taxpayers across Ohio to hold public officials accountable."

"The Montgomery County Auditor's office prides itself on serving the public in the most open and transparent ways possible," said Auditor Karl Keith. "This partnership will continue our ongoing commitment of using new innovation and technology to make government more accessible and accountable."

"The Village of Farmersville is proud to partner with the Ohio Treasurer of State, Josh Mandel's office and to make the Village's financial records available online through OhioCheckbook.com," said Village Fiscal Officer Amy Schenck. "The Village of Farmersville is committed to providing efficient and effective public service and dedicated to enhancing the quality of life for our residents. This initiative will empower our residents and make our government more open and accountable. We are proud of the work that we do for the people of The Village of Farmersville and gratified to take additional steps to demonstrate our commitment."

On April 7, 2015 Treasurer Mandel sent a letter to 18,062 local government and school officials representing 3,962 local governments throughout the state calling on them to place their checkbook level data on OhioCheckbook.com and extending an invitation to partner with his office at no cost to local governments. These local governments include cities, counties, townships, schools, library districts and other special districts.

A large coalition of statewide and local government organizations have expressed support for OhioCheckbook.com and local government transparency, including:

- Ohio Municipal League
- Ohio Township Association
- Ohio Association of School Business Officials
- Buckeye Association of School Administrators
- County Commissioner Association of Ohio
- County Auditor Association of Ohio
- Ohio Newspaper Association
- Ohio Society of CPAs
- Buckeye Institute
- Common Cause Ohio

OhioCheckbook.com was launched on December 2, 2014, marking the first time in Ohio history when citizens could actually see every expenditure in state government. Since its launch, OhioCheckbook.com has received overwhelming support from newspapers and groups across the state and, as of August 16, 2016 there have been more than 600,000 total searches on the site.

OhioCheckbook.com displays more than $534 billion in spending over the past eight years, including more than 147 million transactions. The website includes cutting-edge features such as:

- “Google-style” contextual search capabilities, to allow users to sort by keyword, department, category or vendor;
- Fully dynamic interactive charts to drill down on state spending;
- Functionality to compare state spending year-over-year or among agencies; and,
- Capability to share charts or checks with social media networks, and direct contact for agency fiscal offices.

In March 2015, the U.S. Public Interest Research Group (U.S. PIRG) released their annual “Following the Money 2015” report and Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one transparency ranking in the country for providing online access to government spending data. Ohio was prominently featured in the report after climbing from 46th to 1st in spending transparency as a result of Treasurer Mandel’s release of OhioCheckbook.com. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio received a perfect score of 100 points this year – the highest score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

In April 2016, U.S. PIRG announced that Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for the second consecutive year in a row. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio again received the highest perfect score of 100 points this year – marking the second time in two years Ohio received the highest possible score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.
